Fatal Accident at Sea.

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 17.—The steamship Cimbria, from New York, arrived out on the 10th inst. Julius Tjal Marson, Danish Vice Consul at Porto Rico, who was a passenger, was killed on board. He was sitting on deck, when a sudden lurch of the ship threw him against the bulwarks with great violence, crushing his head. He died in a few minutes.

Suicides.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 17.—Captain Clark, formerly a well known river pilot, hung himself yesterday at his residence near Newport.

Charles Kaufman, traveling salesman for Halberg & Co., of this city, plunged into the river this afternoon and was drowned. An unknown man came upon the wharf boat this afternoon and deliberately threw himself under the steamer and was drowned.

THE SIOUX CAMPAIGN.

A Brilliant Engagement—A Large Village Captured and the Indians Routed.

CHEYENNE, Sept. 16.—The courier who left Gen. Crook's command Sept. 10th brings the following news: Sept. 9th—Since General Crook's column turned south toward the Black Hills, on the 5th inst., there has been considerable hardship through wet weather and living on bacon and hard bread, and a good deal of grumbling. On the 7th it was decided to send a portion of the pack train ahead, under escort of Col. Mills, with fifteen men, on the best horses of each company of the 3d cavalry, making 150 in all. Lieuts. Von Luttwitz, Schwatka and Crawford composed the officers, with Lieut. Bubb, of the 4th infantry, chief commissary; Tom Moore, chief packer, and Frank Gruard Crook, chief scout. The latter was to serve both as guide and scout, and on Saturday evening he discovered through rain and fog, without being himself observed, a hostile Sioux village consisting of 41 large lodges and a band of several hundred ponies and a few American horses. Mills concluded to attempt the attack with a hundred and fifty men, without waiting to send word to Crook for reinforcements. He fell back a few miles, hid his command in a ravine, and at 2 o'clock this morning marched for the village, which was situated on a little creek, a [illegible] of Grand or Owl creek. He forded to the north side before daylight and ordered Lieutenant Schwatka, with Co. M, to charge through the village, while the rest of the force dismounted and were to form a skirmish line on the other side and pick off the Indians as they came out. The latter were completely surprised and scattered out pell-mell, half naked, returning the fire to some extent. Their ponies were effectually stampeded, but owing to Mills' small force he only succeeded in destroying the lodges and property therein and capturing about one hundred and forty ponies. There was an immense quantity of dried meat, [illegible], etc., all that Crook's whole pack train could carry and sufficient to postpone the proposed purchase of supplies. There were wagon loads of robes and savage spoil of all kinds. The guidon of the [illegible] cavalry, which Custer used in the Little Horn [illegible], and various articles of wearing apparel [illegible] that command were also captured. A quantity of stores, stored at the mouth of Powder river [illegible] August 5th, where Terry was fired on, [illegible] the spoils. The whole march and [illegible] Terry and Crook met goes to confirm [illegible] of the latter's views of the enemy's [illegible] and [illegible] since leaving [illegible] on the Little Horn. Lieutenant Von [illegible] Company C, was seriously wounded in the [illegible] Privates Hadbury and Charles Foster, [illegible] Company D, and Sergeant Glass, Company E, were wounded; and private Wenzel of Company A was killed in the action of the morning. About [illegible] o'clock word reached Crook [illegible] with the main column. He [illegible] forward with [illegible] from the cavalry, [illegible] Mills at eleven o'clock. The latter had kept up a good pitched fight during the whole forenoon. Crook was very much disappointed because Mills had not [illegible] the [illegible] last night, as there was [illegible] of time to have got up the entire [illegible] and so effectually surrounded the village that nothing could have escaped; but the General is also pleased, too, all things considered. About 100 yards from the village is a little ravine, in which a band of seven warriors and fifteen [illegible] and children were safely lodged in caves and rocks, and it was in trying to drive them out that Mills lost his killed and most of the wounded. General Crook desired to save the women and children, and by the [illegible] Gruard's interpretation a parley ensued and three warriors came out, one [illegible] American [illegible] being mortally [illegible] Before this parley was [illegible], however, Frank White, a citizen, was shot through the [illegible] and privates K[illegible] and McKinnon, of Company C, with the cavalry, were wounded. About twenty minutes past 4 o'clock this afternoon there was a sudden picket firing sprung up, [illegible] on Col. M[illegible]'s front, resulting in the wounding of Sergeant Schnider, company K, and private Dorn, of company F, 5th cavalry. It proved to be the result of reinforcements received from Crazy Horse's band. There was a running attack all round the circle, but troops were quickly thrown out and the enemy driven off in every direction. The latter got about a dozen horses too poor to get back into camp. On the line of march returning the village was thoroughly ransacked and the spoils divided round. Colonel Mills and men got ponies. There were found papers to "good Indians" from Indian Agent Howard, of Spotted Tail [illegible], and an illicit trader there named Boucher, dated respectively June 14th and February 18th, 1876. Much ammunition and many guns were found in the lodges, and all evidence is to the effect that the Indians were prepared for winter. There are probably 1,000 warriors connected with it, and their chief is Roman Nose, formerly of Cheyenne agency. It is regretted that other of the large villages near by were not surprised and destroyed, but the affair demonstrates the good policy of a stern chase after the Indians, even with foot soldiers, who came in here to the relief of the cavalry, as their part in the play gives them renewed vigor and spirit.

Sept. 12th—[illegible] news has been received that a little picket firing was done throughout last night and this morning. After the command was on the march, a number of Indians came down on the rear of the column but met with a warm reception from Capt. Sumn[illegible]'s battalion of the 5th cavalry, who covered the enemy in the ravine and killed several and disabled others. Privates, S. Foster, Co. F, Madden, Co. M, and Geo. Clouter, Co. K, were wounded. The command marched 15 miles to day toward the Hills, bringing the entire sick and wounded on 12 litters. Medical Director Clements amputated the right leg of Lieut Von Luttwitz last evening, and private Kennedy died of his wounds. No other amputations or deaths are likely to occur. The wounded chief, American Horse, died last night. Most of the captives are brought along, a few squaws being left back, with the General's advice, to tell the hostile bands to go on to the agencies, [illegible] themselves, and all will be well with them. Col. Mills, Lieut. Bubb and Gruard go through to the Hills to-morrow with a view to [illegible] future supplies.

Gen. Sheridan is at Fort Laramie awaiting the arrival of Gen. Crook, or advices from him, as to what point he may meet him for council.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Gen. Sheridan telegraphs from Fort Laramie to the military headquarters here a dispatch which he received from Gen. Crook detailing his movements and engagements as already reported in a Cheyenne dispatch to the press. Gen. Crook imparts the following additional information: In the captured village were found, besides great quantities of dried meat and ammunition an army guide and portions of officers and non commissioned officers' uniforms, and other indications that the Indians of this village had participated in the Custer massacre. Our main column got up about noon on that day and was shortly after attacked by a considerable body of Indians, who the prisoners say belonged to the village of Crazy Horse, who was camped somewhere between their own village and the Little Missouri river. This attack was undoubtedly made under the supposition that Capt. Mills' command had not received reinforcements. The prisoners further stated that most of the hostile Indians were now going into the agencies with the exception of Crazy Horse and Sitting Bull, with their immediate followers. Crazy Horse intended to remain at the head waters of the Little Missouri, and about half of Sitting Bull's command, numbering sixty to one hundred lodges, had gone north of the Yellowstone, while the remainder, with some Sansarcs, Minneconjous and Uncapapas had gone in the vicinity of Antelope Buttes, there to fatten their ponies [illegible] trade with the Rees and others. I place great [illegible] on these statements from other corroborat[illegible] evidence which I have. These Indians, with Sitting Bull, will amount probably to 300 or 400 lodges and in my judgment can very easily be struck by General Terry's command, provided it go in light marching orders and keep under cover. Our prisoners also, in their conversation, fully confirmed in every particular my opinions as already telegraphed you. We had a very hard march here from Pearl river. For eighty consecutive miles we did not have a particle of wood—nothing but little dry grass which was insufficient even to cook coffee for the men. During a great portion of the time we were drenched by cold rains, which made traveling very heavy. A great many animals gave out and had to be abandoned. Others are now in such weak condition that a great number of them will not be able to resume the campaign until after a reasonable rest. I should like to have about 500 horses preferably the half breed horses raised on the Laramie plains, or in the vicinity of Denver, and acclimated to this country. I intend to carry out the programme mentioned in my last dispatch, via Fort Lincoln, and shall remain in the vicinity of Deadwood until the arrival of my wagon train.

In Colborne, Canada, the wife of a German farmer, last fall plowed 17 acres of land. This season she mowed with a grass scythe for six days, and with a horse-rake she also raked ten acres of hay, using a three-year-old colt broken by herself. She also has loaded and unloaded and teamed all the lime and sand required for a new house; loaded and unloaded all the grain, and milked and cared for seven cows. He name, we grieve to state, is not given.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Five per cent. Bonds Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Two hundred thousand five per cent. bonds held to secure circulation were withdrawn from the Treasury and 4½ per cents substituted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday to consider the appeal of the sufferers of Savannah.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Offices discontinued: Soda Springs, Linn county, Oregon.

The Naval Officers don't like Half Pay.

The Tribune's Washington special says: A number of naval officers affected by the recent order of Secretary Robeson reducing the pay of officers awaiting orders one half, have retained a prominent attorney who will shortly argue before the Attorney General, to whom the question will be referred for an opinion, as to the right of the Secretary of the Navy to take such step. The officers claim that the revised statutes of 1875 don't alter the law of 1835, which governs the furloughing of officers, and that, therefore, the pay must continue at the usual rates as long as the appropriation holds out, and Congress must be depended upon to make up the deficiency caused by insufficient appropriation.

Like Master like Man.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The Inter Ocean's Washington special says Dorsheimer, Tilden's adjutant and confidential adviser, will have to neglect his explanations of Tilden's income tax discrepancies and clear up a record of his own, discovered by an auditor's clerk in the Treasury Department. It is that while district attorney for northern New York under Andy Johnson, he used to send a deputy from Buffalo, where his office was located, to remote portions of the state to attend to [illegible] before the U. S. commissioner, and to other business of the government, and when this deputy would travel from town to town, Dorsheimer would render account for mileage at the rate of 10 cents per mile, not for the actual distance traveled, but from Buffalo to each place visited and return. Thus, if a deputy went from Buffalo to Albany his account would be charged as to Albany and return, 696 miles. If he went from Albany to Troy his account would be from Buffalo to Troy and return, 604 miles. The correspondent gives a large number of these cases specified and certified to in Dorsheimer's handwriting as correct returns, and says they are only specimens of vast numbers in the records which the candidate for lieutenant governor of New York cannot explain away.

CANADA.

Fire.

ALTAMONT, Sept. 16.—The Altamont furniture factory in West's block and a number of adjoining buildings burned this morning. Loss of furniture company, $60,000.

Treaties with Canadian Indians.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Information has been received by the government from Lt. Gov. Morgan of the completion of a second treaty with the Indian tribes occupying the country of which Fort Hill may be described as the center. Another treaty, concluded three weeks ago with the Indians near Prince Albert's settlement, includes all tribes east of the boundaries of the treaty just made. The treaty concluded embraces the whole of the North Saskatchewan country to the Rocky Mountains, and leaves only the Blackfeet Indians in the southwest portion of the Territory to be treated with next season.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Turco-Servian War.

BELGRADE, Sept. 16.—The Servians repulsed the attack of five battalions of Turks southwest of Alexinatz Thursday. General Harvatevotch turned the Turkish positions by crossing Yastabatz Heights, and Colonel Melkowich defeated the Turks and drove them across Doina, recapturing the two Servian redoubts at Little Lwornick. It is asserted that the Servians have obtained 60,000 muskets and several mitrailleuses from Prussia.

Denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 16.—The existence of a treaty between Russia and Germany, providing for a settlement of the Eastern question in case of war, is officially denied.

The German View.

VIENNA, Sept. 16.—The Abend Post, the official paper, while expressing its satisfaction at the fact that the Turkish peace proposals present a first-rate basis for negotiations in favor of peace, dwells upon the necessity of considerable modifications in Turkey's conditions. It especially points to the necessity of including in the negotiations the guarantees which the Porte must give for improvement of the condition of its Christian subjects and the execution of its promised reforms.

Tweed Returned to Cuba.

MADRID, Sept. 16.—Wm. M. Tweed and Wm. Hunt will be embarked at Corunna for Cuba as prisoners on Thursday next, the 21st inst.

The Porte's Peace Proposals.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The text of the Porte's answer to the Powers shows that the Porte, among other conditions for peace, requires that Servia shall send back all persons who emigrated to that country from the neighboring Turkish provinces.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.—One of the bases of peace stipulates for the payment by Servia of a war indemnity without fixing the amount or in lieu thereof an increase of Servia's annual tributes.

Times on the Peace Proposals.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Times to-day, in an article on the Turkish peace conditions, concludes as follows: "Although the Porte has said its last words, the Great Powers have not said theirs. It remains for them to signify by a collective act what terms of peace are admissible, and Turkey will, indeed, have begun a new chapter of her history. If she should resist their united counsels, her unbending attitude almost warrants the suspicions that to save her own dignity in the presence of her subjects, she is waiting for the presence of those Powers which, as they protect, must also command. It would be gratifying to think that in such a crisis the temper of our own foreign officers is firm enough and its purposes sufficiently decided to be truly representatives of the nation; but Gladstone's letter is a formidable indictment, and if the foreign office should continue to resist popular wishes, his demand for an autumn session of Parliament may speedily become that of the country.

Suspension of Hostilities in Servia.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Rueter's Telegraph Co. has a dispatch from Belgrade stating that an agreement to suspend hostilities for ten days has been signed.

A special from Berlin to the Observer says simultaneously with the delivery of the reply to the Powers, containing the peace conditions, the Porte issued orders on its own initiative for the immediate cessation of all hostilities on the assumption that Servia and Montenegro would issue similar instructions.

The Porte's Reply Favorably Received.

The Powers have received the Porte's reply favorably and opened negotiations immediately for further joint action. The Porte has confidentially notified the Powers of its determination to redress the grievances.

Grievances of Christians in Spain.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A dispatch from Madrid says the mayor of San Farnando ordered the Protestant pastor there to keep the door of his chapel closed because external manifestations are prohibited by the constitution.

Defense of the English Position on the Eastern Question.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Chancellor of Exchequer, in addressing a large meeting at Edinburgh yesterday, made a defense of the government's policy in the East, taking the same grounds as Lord Derby in his reply to the deputations on the 11th inst. He repudiated as baseless that the government was influenced by feelings of jealousy against Russia. He stated that the government accepted the duty of protecting the Christian subjects of the Porte from misgovernment. The Chancellor concluded his speech with the following important announcement: "I received a communication to-day stating that definite steps have been taken by the Porte for putting an end to hostilities." Either Friday night or this morning, orders were given for cessation of hostilities, thus affording an opportunity for a calm and reasonable discussion of the terms of settlement.

The Insurgents Advised to Cease Hostilities.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—It is stated that the British government has instructed its agents in Bosnia and Herzegovina to urge the insurgents to cease hostilities.

Report of a Servian Victory Denied.

The Standard's special from Belgrade declares there is absolutely no truth in the report of a Servian victory on the Moravia. The report was fabricated by a employe of the press bureau at Belgrade. There has been no important movement on the Movaria during the past week. The army on the Drina, having been weakened by sending reinforcements to General Tchernayoff, crossed to the other side of the Drina without a battle, after destroying its entrenchments. 700 Russians have arrived at Belgrade within the past two days.

An Armistice.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A Time's special, dated Semlin, 17th, says the Turkish government has ordered all its commanders to discontinue hostilities until further notice. Prince Milan sent similar orders to General Tchernayoff and other Servian commanders. No limit to the duration of the armistice is specified; but either party may terminate it by giving notice. There has been great activity among the foreign consuls all day. Many cypher dispatches passed between Belgrade, London and Constantinople.

Turkish Political News.

VIENNA, Sept. 17.—A dispatch to the Times reports that a conflict between the Sultan and ministers was avoided by a compromise, the armistice being made conditional on an agreement about the conditions of peace. In setting forth the conditions of peace, the Porte leaves it to the foreign Powers to consider the grounds which have induced the Porte to place before the Powers these conditions as calculated to show its [illegible] to grant an armistice as soon as the Powers have taken them into consideration. The Powers unanimously regard the conditions as inadmissable, but here their unanimity ends. Some still advocate an armistice, while others are satisfied with a mere cessation of hostilities.

Investigation of the Bulgarian Atrocities by the Porte.

A telegram from Constantinople says a new commission of inquiry appointed by the Turkish government, will go immediately to Phillippopolis to investigate the Bulgarian atrocities.

MOUNTAIN MEADOWS MASSACRE.

Trial of John D. Lee.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 16.—Jacob Hamblin was recalled, and stated that Lee further told him that an Indian chief, who lived at Cedar, brought two girls who had been hiding in the brush, to him (Lee), and asked what he should do with them, that they were too pretty to kill. Lee replied that he must shoot them, that they were too big. The Indian then shot one, and Lee threw the other down and cut her throat; that when Hamblin returned to his ranch he went over the ground and found the bodies of the two girls about the age described—from thirteen to fifteen—lying near together, with their throats cut as described to him by her; that one of the children, who was about eight years old, and who was at his house, claimed the bodies as her sisters, and that their names was Dunlap. Hamblin, on being asked by the defense if he had ever told this to any one, replied that he had, and more too, and that soon after the occurrence, when he remembered it better than he did now, He had told it to President Young and George A. Smith. President Young told him that when the right time came, and we could get a court of justice, to go and tell it, and on being further pressed said he had not seen the effects of any court of justice from that time to this, but thought now was just the right time to tell it.

Johnson on being recalled stated that subsequently to the [illegible] he was sent to protect the next company of emigrants to the Santa Clara; that on his way he stopped at Harmony, where he saw John D. Lee, who proposed to him to get the emigrants into ambush, to destroy them as if by the Indians, and so get their property; also that he (Johnson) replied there has been too much blood shed by you already. I have been instructed to see them safely through, and I will do so and go with them; that Lee then abused him, calling him ugly names; that he identified the prisoner at the bar as being John D. Lee.

The prosecution rested their case here. To the surprise of all present in the court room, Lee's attorneys announced that they also rested their case and would not introduce any witnesses, but give the case to the jury on the evidence already adduced by the prosecution, and asked for a continuance of the case until Monday the 18th to give time to prepare an argument and instructions to the jury. The court adjourned till Monday at 10 o'clock and instructed the witnesses to remain, as other cases pertaining to the massacre were to be disposed of. The following documentary evidence has been filed by the prosecution, but was not given to the jury: A letter from John D. Lee to Brigham Young, dated Nov. 20th, 1857, giving a report of the massacre as an Indian affair; a letter from Brigham Young to J. W. Denver, commissioner of Indian affairs, dated Sept. 12, 1857; a letter from the same to the same, Jan. 6, 1857; the proclamation of Governor Brigham Young and George A. Smith, July 30, 1857, and a letter from Brigham Young to Bishop Dame, Sept. 14, 1857.

The New York Nation has made the mistake of treating Mr. Tilden's conduct in the Terre Haute & Alton railroad case as if it could be disposed of by mere flippancy and ridicule. It seems to assume that because many campaign "charges" are idle or false none should be considered. So far has its own partisanship carried it in this affair that it has seriously made an argument to show that Mr. Tilden and his coadjutors were justified in dividing among themselves such securities as remained in their hands after the claims of the new bondholders were satisfied. Mr. G. W. Curtis, in Harper's Weekly, knocks this position into flinders. He cites the well known legal principle that, if there be any surplus in the settlement of an estate after paying all the leagatees, such surplus does not in any event belong to the administrators, but must go to the heirs-at-law. We agree with Harper's Weekly when it says that the position of the Nation with regard to the present campaign is an alarming sympton of the demoralization of the press, which the latter journal has been so quick to detect and deplore.

Mrs. Caroline Brooks, whose "Iolanthe" modelled in butter has created such a sensation at the Philadelphia Exposition, lives on an Arkansas plantation, and amused her loneliness there by shaping the butter as she worked it into fanciful designs and shapes. These were placed on the table, and it was a long time before their merit was discovered by a visitor, and Mrs. Brooks advised to cultivate her talent. She has since, on the plea of ill health, refused several offers made by friends to send her to Rome. She is stationed near her work in the Woman's Pavilion, and a correspondent fears that her health will suffer by "the worry and labor of all day answering the questions of curious crowds, writing her autograph on the photographs of the Iolanthe when any one asks it, and attending to the ice-pack that the piece may not melt away into thin butter."

A London police officer recently informed a magistrate that he found the prisoner whose case was under consideration "sitting on a step in a state of incapability and singing a beautiful song." The magistrate noticed the incongruity of the accusation. "How's that?" he inquired. "singing a beautiful song and incapable? What was he incapable of?" "Incapable of walking," replied the officer, this time with unimpeachable accuracy of diction. This moves the Pall Mall Gazette to remark: "It is curious to observe the tendency of words in use among certain cliques to lose their primitive meaning."

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The jury found a verdict that Jennie Bonnet was mudered by a gunshot wound at the hands of persons unknown to the jury; but it is our opinion the evidence strongly points to Ernest Gerard and Arthur Deneve, either as principals or accessories to the crime of murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—No clue has yet been obtained to the murder of Jennie Bonnet, though the detectives are still at work on the affair. Ernest Gerard, who was arrested on suspicion, was discharged yesterday, no evidence being found sufficient to warrant holding him. The dead girl was buried yesterday, and quite a crowd thronged the Morgue, mostly led by curiosity, though many of a certain class present evinced genuine sorrow at her fate.

Close of the Mechanics' Fair.

The Mechanics' Fair closed last night to a large attendance. President Hallidie delivered the closing address. The receipts at the door yesterday were $2,160, against $2,432 for the closing day of the fair last year. The total receipts for the fair just closed are $57,535, though considerably less than the $90,058 taken in 1875, yet from the fact that nothing has to be paid out for premiums this time it will leave almost as much profit to the Institute as on the former occasion.

Paymaster Spalding a Creditor of the Government.

Since the dismissal of Paymaster R. C. Spalding from the navy, reports have been industriously circulated by interested parties to the effect that he was indebted to the government to a large amount. A copy of a letter from the Treasury Department shows that instead of being a debtor, Mr. Spalding is a creditor of the government, a small balance in his favor being found in the statement of his accounts.

Stage Robber Arrested.

JACKSON, Sept. 17.—One of the robbers that took Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box from the Jackson and Latrobe stage near Finn's ranch on Monday last, was arrested by Constable Hopkins, assisted by Hall and Wiley, about four miles above Hall's station, on the Nevada and Amador wagon road, on Friday last and lodged in jail. He was the taller of the two, and has been fully identified by the persons on the stage at the time of the robbery. He goes by the name of "Gum Boot" Charley, and it is known he put up a job some three or four years since to rob the Volcano and Jackson stage.

Fire.

SAN ANDREAS, Sept. 16.—A large barn in this place, belonging to Lloyd Bros., and a part of Mr. Hall's blacksmith shop, were destroyed by fire last night about midnight. The fire originated in the barn, and was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. The barn was used for feeding and stabling horses, and contained several ton of hay and grain. Several horses were in the barn at the time, and were all taken out except two. The loss is about $3,000.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

WORK BEGUN—THE CENTENNIAL FRUIT BILL AND SOME SPEECHES ABOUT IT AND OTHER MATTERS—THE CAUCUS RESULT.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Sept. 16, 1876.

The body legislative, though beginning to thrust its fingers into the business before it, has done but little, and as yet but one bill has passed either house. This is the bill to provide for an exhibition of Oregon fruits at the Centennial, which went through the Senate on Thursday, and came up in the lower house yesterday afternoon, where an amendment was offered appropriating $500 for the purposes of the bill, restoring it just as it was originally introduced [illegible] was thought that the sum of $750, to which it was cut down in that body, was too small. The remarks made by several members on the amendment offered in the House are worthy of some comment, as showing the light in which some of the law-makers view certain questions. Chambers offered the amendment, and supported it by a few brief and pertinent remarks upon the advantages likely to result to the State from a full and fair representation of the important branch of industry, fruit-growing, in her borders. The amendment was also supported by others. Among them, Chapman, of Lake county, very ably presented the arguments why the legislature should vote the amount aid to the movement contemplated by the bill, and thought that if economy ought to be the ruling motive in this legislature, and he thought it should, he would favor stinting appropriations for other purposes, that the magnificent products of the State might be fully brought to the notice of the hundreds of thousands of people who are thronging the national exposition, and the beauty, deliciousness and abundance of our fruits made known to the world. As a means of advertising the State and its great advantages in this regard, and thus attracting hither [illegible] population and capital, he was willing to vote $500, and rather than this important [illegible] should fail to be carried out fully, he would vote $2,500 for the purpose. His [illegible] showed him to be a man of [illegible] and liberal views on subjects touching the enterprise which should be shown in building up a new country and making efforts to fully set its merits before all classes of people in other lands. Following him, Ferguson, of Yamhill, a county which is certainly more interested in the object contemplated in the bill than is Lake county, from which Mr. Chapman hails, made a speech earnestly opposing the appropriation of more than $250. His first objection was that some one, as he [illegible], "wanted a free ride to the [illegible]," which would have been a valid [illegible] for his opposition to the [illegible], had be shown that any grounds for his [illegible], but he did not. He then argued that O[illegible] had [illegible] too much [illegible]; he had [illegible] informed that the article [illegible] on exhibition at Philadelphia from this [illegible] were hardly ever seen, that [illegible] were [illegible] placed alongside the exhibits of other countries; it was hard to find [illegible] though when you found [illegible] they looked well [illegible] He claimed that the [illegible] of [illegible] sent were not fair samples, that they deceived the people. In short, said he, all [illegible] and intelligent [illegible] such as were wanted here, already knew all that was necessary, and only the [illegible] and ignorant [illegible] did not [illegible] knowledge of the [illegible] of the [illegible] and th[illegible] were not wanted. He was opposed to advertising O[illegible] any [illegible]. We feel sure that Mr. Ferguson's views on this question are totally at variance with those of ninety-nine out of every one hundred intelligent men in Oregon, and the hundredth man would not fully agree with him.

After his [illegible] the bill was [illegible] to a special committee who we hope will see the importance of the measure a little more clearly, and report in favor of its [illegible] as [illegible] ed. As a pecuniary [illegible], aside from any State pride in the matter, the complete representation of this branch of industry would result in a return to our State of four fold the amount asked for, within less than five y[illegible]

THE [illegible] BILLS

Introduced are, some of them, important, and when there is more opportunity to examine their various provisions, we may have more to say of their merits. Among these are two in the Senate by Mr. George, of your county; one, an act to create a State board of [illegible], which is somewhat, but not exactly, like the old equalization law in the results sought to be attained by its [illegible]. Another is in regard to the passage of boats through the locks at Oregon City. Both subjects are important, and a careful consideration of the remedies proposed for the evils alleged to exist in the matters upon which the bills directly bear, is demanded by the interests of all the people of the State.

Mr. Chambers has introduced a bill to amend the school law so as to allow each organized school district to select its own text books, and prohibiting any change oftener than once in four years. Among some objections to this measure is the one that families who move from one district to another might be compelled to purchase new books, but as the number of people who change districts often enough to make this objection at all general, is too small, we are not sure that the other advantages to be secured by the passage of the law would not outweigh it.

THE CHILD IS BORN.

The caucus has been laboring fearfully for many days, and last night the child was born. It is claimed by the nurses to be a very strong and healthy infant, and that it will grow to be a United States Senator before the middle of next week, but others assert a very contrary opinion both of the strength of the prodigy and the probabilities of its attainments in the so near future. To speak less allegorically, the caucus has set up its candidate and his name is Grover. Forty-four Democrats, two less than a majority on a joint ballot of the two houses, met last night and we learn that, first an informal ballot was taken and Grover received 24 votes, then a regular ballot and he got 28 votes. This the caucus made unanimous and the thing was done. The great question is, will all the 44 and two more endorse this nominee. Some men of both parties say they will not, and as there are some of the members who keep their own counsel most religiously and provokingly it is impossible to foretell the result. There have been men nearer the U. S. Senate than Gov. Grover is, and with all the authority of a caucus at their backs and still these same men are compelled "to view the promised land afar off." Tuesday will soon be here and with its advent things will culminate, but how we must wait till then to know. In the mean time, if anything new develops itself on this point your readers will be promptly advised.

KING CAUCUS DOES HIS WORK

Governor Grover has received the nomination of a caucus of a part of the Democrats in the legislature, and there is now going on a general whipping in to get together votes enough to consummate the performance by making him U S senator We are reliably informed there were only 44 members in the caucus—2 less than enough to elect and some eight or nine less than the entire strength of the party The whippers in, however, claim that they can use the lash of party discipline successfully in bringing the anti-caucus recalcitrants into line If they can of course the Governor will be elected the first ballot

It is one of the peculiarities of that system of frauds known as the caucus, that it does not wait for even the form of authority, but turns the thumbscrews whenever it can do so successfully Up to the time of this fragmentary caucus, the Standard, of this city, claimed to prefer the election of another candidate, but since the rump caucus, composed of only a part of the Democratic members, and numbering less than a majority of the legislature, has declared for the Governor, the Standard hastens to abandon the candidate who it thinks better, and to declare Grover just the man And not content with merely coming over at the dictation of a rump caucus, which has no authority under the caucus [illegible] to bind anybody, the Standard denounces as a traitor every man who, calling himself a Democrat, refuses to surrender his manhood into the keeping of the fragmentary conclave. Some of the anti-Grover Democrats say that the nominee of the rump will get only the votes of the rump, and that even these will begin to break away and throw their votes for some of the outside candidates. The chances are, however, that the rump will capture the body, and Governor Grover will reach the high position he has so long coveted. Thus King Caucus forces on the State a Senator who is not the choice of anything like a majority of those intrusted with the election. Governor Grover is a respectable man He is, in fact, as respectable as Mr. Littimer, which readers of "David Copperfield" know is respectability of the most pronounced character. But he is not the choice of the people of Oregon, nor of a majority of the members of the legislature for U. S Senator, and when the rump caucus forces him on the people, it fitly illustrates the manner in which caucus rule thwarts popular rule.

ENGLISH SENTIMENT ON THE EASTERN WAR.

The course of the English government in supporting the Ottoman Empire in its persecution of Christians in Europe is little better received by English people than among other civilized nations. From the first there has been dissatisfaction manifested in many influential quarters and since the revealed atrocities committed by the Turks on the Bulgarian Christians the opposition sentiment is becoming so far spread and so well directed that it begins to look as if the government might be compelled to reverse its action in the matter. The London correspondent of the New York Times, gives an intelligent account of the state of affairs in England, with respect to this subject, from which it appears that the demonstration in opposition to the course of the government is becoming more and more formidable The feeling is so strong and unmistakable that the friends of the government likewise are taking up the cry and seeking to prevent the question becoming a party issue. A pamphlet on the subject by Mr Gladstone will be published this week, and Mr. Gladstone has written to his constituents at Greenwich that after its completion he will be ready to address a proposed meeting there on the subject. Earl Russell again writes a letter calling for an autumn session of Parliament. A letter from the Bishop of Manchester, calling upon the people as a nation to subscribe for the relief of the Bulgarians, contains the following sentence "Come what may—and I do not see anything is likely, or even possible to come which can endanger the position of England—it seems impossible, if we are to have any regard for our honor or our good name, that we should any longer throw, or even allow it to be supposed we throw, the shield of the protection of England over a power which, relying on that protection, has done deeds which have startled and shocked the conscience of the whole civilized world" And the London Times takes up the subject and mixes its growl with some good sense as follows

"We have, not morally only but as a matter of international law, the right to see that justice is done the Porte's Christian subjects Another fallacy is that to maintain unabridged the authority of the Porte throughout the Ottoman Empire is in the interest of England and an essential condition of every peace to which we could be a party Those who assert most strongly this necessity of upholding the Porte's authority speak of it as the policy of England, and refer to it as a tradition of the highest wisdom of the last generation No statement can be more historically untrue All that is permanent in English policy in the East may be summed up in a sentence—that we desire to reduce to a minimum the disturbance involved in every inevitable change Happily for us this notion of maintaining everything unchanged in southeastern Europe in the interest of England has been disproved by events The calling of intermediate States into existence along the Danube has preserved the equilibrium of the European system far better than any forced maintenance of the status quo It has been a safeguard against Russian preponderance as well as a safety valve of forces that could not be forever repressed We can have no shadow of interest in restraining the development of this process We should be ready to assist the other guaranteeing powers and even invite them to proceed in this policy The decision lies with us If Lord Derby would know in short what Englishmen want, it is to cease from vain repetitions of the language of tradition and to come to an agreement with the Czar on terms of peace which the two powers can press with irresistible authority on the Sultan and his ministers

A correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette (Dem), after making a thorough canvass of all that part of North Carolina where the Democrats are strongest, gives it as his reluctant conclusion that the State will go Republican

THE REFORMERS

The Washington Chronicle has been studying the literature of party politics and has collected together some curious confessions of Democratic reform It says Under Andrew Jackson, in 1829 Democratic reform, practically, had its beginning and in 1861 it closed under Buchanan in treason and blood The diabolism of its long misrule its system of maladministration as an attendant upon its prodigious corruptions its malfeasance, wholesale robberies and frauds its violent usurpations through the executive legislature and judiciary the destruction of the constitution and laws, all the bulwarks and guards of liberty by a combination of all these in a nefarious conspiracy against freedom—a malignant attempt by ambitious tyranny in all its sanguinary forms to establish slavery in Kansas In the blood of the American freeman such diabolism very fittingly culminated in 1861 in a proslavery rebellion before the crimes of which all others dwarf into utter insignificance even those of the factions in ancient Rome of Sylla and Marius and in modern Paris of Robespierre Cawthorn and St Just

That is not mere declamation It is the confession—the damning admission—wrung by multiplied proofs from Democratic reformers At its close in 1860 as at its beginning, its maladministration and crime—its manifold tyranny—was investigated by the noted Covode committee The evidence of their guilt was overwhelming Mr Winslow the Democratic minority, in admitting the guilt—the reprehensible irregularities at the post offices navy yards, and custom houses under Democratic reform—is metamorphosed into a Christian philosopher, and moralizes very wisely and justly. He urges

No government has ever existed in which the executive branch has been able to secure everywhere faithful and trustworthy agents In a country as extensive as ours it is hardly to be expected that we could be more successful than other people We must expect occasional breaches of duty, occasional betrayals of trusts, so long as our imperfect nature exists When abuses occur it is our duty to rectify them as speedily and as effectually as we can

So also at the beginning, in 1839, when the mammoth defaults of Swartwout, Price and Gratiot—when the defaults of the Harrises, Boyds and Allens of fifty of the sixty odd receivers of public moneys—when the defaults of nearly every class of officers under the government, aggregating a loss of millions to the nation—were investigated by the celebrated Harlan committee the Democratic minority, (Messrs Owens, Foster and Wagner) overwhelmed by the multiplied proofs of guilt, were suddenly metamorphosed into Christian philosophers, nor Socrates, nor Plato, nor Seneca—Locke nor Paley—neither heathen nor Christian—moralized more wisely or justly They, pleading, urge

That the country has sustained great pecuniary loss, no man can doubt, that the national character has suffered deep humiliation and disgrace, no man can hesitate to admit. But losses like these are incident to all governments—no one is free from them The annals of our own afford numerous instances of peculation, committed at every period of its short existence, under all and every administration, and all and every fiscal system which has been adopted and carried into practice, no matter who has been the fiscal agent, the government has sustained loss, it must be so until man becomes honest

And so at every stage of its existence, from its origin under Jackson to its appalling collapse under Buchanan, the maladministration and malfeasance, the wholesale robberies and revolting corruptions, the destructive executive and military tyranny and diabolism of Democratic reform has inflicted upon the country a prodigious "pecuniary loss," upon "the national character," "deep humiliation and disgrace"

'O, Humbug! Thy name is Democratic Reform!'

The report is industriously circulated by the Democratic caucus organs that the Republicans in the legislature recognize and act upon the caucus rule They do no such thing They confer among themselves, as they ought to do in order to be able to act in concert in matters wherein their views are alike but they have it distinctly understood that any member is at liberty to vote contrary to the conclusion reached by the majority in their conferences if he sees proper to do so, and for voting according to his conscientious convictions of duty he is not to be denounced as a traitor to his party, and threatened with ostracism by the party managers, as is done in the Democratic camp The caucus, in its party sense—the tyrannical and odious caucus that deprives a man of his manhood—is unknown among the Republicans of the legislature this session Long may it remain so

We are destined soon to have a test of the temper of the Legislature on the subject of compulsory education, a bill for that purpose having been prepared by a member from Douglas county. The bill will be brought forward in a few days

RUPTURE!

No More Metallic Trusses Used!

No More Suffering from Iron Hoops or Steel Springs!

THE SUPERIORITY OF OUR ELASTIC Trusses over the rigid Iron Hoops which in former days were the only resource of the ruptured admits of NO ARGUMENT

By means of this appliance the pressure on the Rupture itself can be made uniform and continuous and to the extent required in each case until a slight inflammation of the parts is secured and the consequent effusion of lymph which is essential to a healing process and from this time to the conclusion of the treatment the pressure being entirely within the control of the patient can be lessened daily as the adhesion progresses and the body becomes sound All cases of reducible Hernia are permanently relieved without regard to the age of the patient or the duration of the injury while in its action it is wholly free from all the cruelty that has characterized the treatment of the malady with torturous Metal Trusses from the earliest age to the present day Your attention is called to the following facts

1st—There are no springs to press upon or to injure the back.

2d—It is simple in construction and not liable to get out of order

3d—This instrument is worn with perfect ease while riding horseback.

4th—The Rupture is received and the pressure the same while in any position

5th—It has none of the injurious results of metallic Trusses

6th—It will perform radical cures when all others fail

7th—It is worn with ease and comfort night and day which cannot be said truthfully of any metal Truss whatever

Experience shows that all tempered spring Trusses necessarily press upon and often disease parts of the body that before were in a perfectly healthy condition Lumbago and other equally distressing ailments are not unfrequently the outgrowth of such pressure and in view of this fact it becomes a matter of decided consequence to avoid like calamities, if possible

Examination Free. The closest scrutiny of physicians solicited

Beware of Bogus articles called Elastic Trusses Dr. ROWE, Inventor and Patentee of Elastic Truss All parties infringing either by sale or manufacture, will be dealt with in such manner as the law provides.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.

Articles of incorporation of the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company have just been filed in the county clerk's office, as follows:

Know all men by these presents that we, H. Thielsen, S. G. Reed, C. H. Lewis, B. Goldsmith, M. S. Burrell, L. White, Frank Dekum, Sol Hirsch, J. Loewenberg, R. B. Knapp, L. Fleischner, John McCraken, Donald Macleay, R. Jacobs, Wm. Wadhams, W. J. Van Schuyver, S. Farrell, I. Kaufman, P. Wasserman, Chas. H. Dodd, S. G. Skidmore, J. A. Chapman, Wm. Kapus, A. P. Ankeny, W. W. Chapman and J. M. Strowbridge, citizens of the State of Oregon, do by these presents associate ourselves together as a private corporation under and by virtue of the general incorporation laws of the State of Oregon, and for purposes we do jointly and severally hereby agree to and with each other to the articles following:

First—The corporation shall be known and recognized as the Oregon Pacific Railroad Co.

Second—The duration of the corporation shall be perpetual.

Third—The object of the corporation is the construction of a railroad and telegraph with all the necessary branches, side tracks, fixtures, buildings, etc., from the city of Portland through the counties of Multnomah, Wasco, Umatilla, Union and Baker, and on through Idaho to the Union Pacific railroad at or near Ogden.

Fourth—The principal office of the company is to be located in Portland.

Fifth—The capital stock of the corporation is placed at $10,000,000.

Sixth—The amount of each share of capital stock is placed at $100.

OCEAN SHIP COMPANY.

William Morton, Bent. Killin and John Catlin, have filed articles of incorporation with the county court under the above title.

The name by which this company shall be known and recognized is The Ocean Ship Company, and its duration shall be twenty years.

The object of this corporation and the business in which it purposes to engage is the navigation by sail or otherwise of the Pacific Ocean and all other navigable waters, sea and inland; to lease, purchase, charter, or own all boats, ships or other vessels necessary in the prosecution of such business.

The principal office of the company shall be located at Portland.

The capital stock of said corporation shall be $20,000 in gold coin, subdivided into shares of $100 each.

BRIEF NOTES.

C street, from First to Third, is being macadamized.

Two fines have been imposed for violating the Sunday law.

The roof the steamship company's dock has been whitewashed.

The number of vessels now in port makes shipping look quite lively.

Mr. John J. Valentine, general superintendent of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express, is in the city.

The steamer Carrie is to have new cylinders, which are to be cast at the Oregon Iron Works.

A gentleman in this city has a dog and pet deer that live harmoniously in the same yard and sleep together.

Smith Bros' machine shop is again in working order, and work will commence in the foundry next week.

Miss Fannie Holman, one of the teachers in the public schools, who has been ill for some time, is improving rapidly in health.

It is said that owing to the light fruit crop, the drying and curing company in East Portland will not put any up the present season.

The barkentine Modoc, which had a portion of her rigging carried away while on the way to this port, is now undergoing necessary repairs.

Colonel Wilson received a dispatch Saturday from Washington to the effect that the appropriation for the Lower Columbia and Willamette rivers would not be reduced.

The Band of Helpers have secured another house, and in a good location for the object in view—aiding females in search of work and offering them a home while disengaged.

The funds to be applied in the improvement of the upper Wallamet will be exhausted within the next month, and work will have to be suspended until the new appropriation is rendered available.

Coung Ye Loung Co. are the charterers of the bark Garibaldi. Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay, the owners, reserve the privilege of sending the vessel on a coasting voyage from Hongkong to Manila or Shanghae.

Mr. Watson, the accountant in Ladd & Tilton's bank, has been confined to his room for some weeks with illness. He is rapidly convalescing, we are gratified to state. As soon as his health will permit Mr. Watson intends to make a visit East before resuming his desk in the bank.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The attention of millers throughout the State is called to the advertisement of C. M. Kester, which appears to-day in another column. Having had long experience in the sack making business, and running his machinery by water power, he is prepared to furnish bolting cloth, sacks, etc., at the lowest rates. All work warranted. Give him a call.

PERSONAL.

We regret to state that Hon. J. M. Scott, member of the House from Multnomah county, is quite ill. He was compelled to return home Friday, owing to indisposition. Hon. Gideon Tibbetts was unable to occupy his chair in the lower house, Friday, in consequence of illness.

Go to Kohn's for clothing. He keeps the largest and best assortment in the city.

MY DEAR MADAM, try GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, and you will find it a far more effective beautifier than any cosmetic. It promises a healthy circulation in the vessels of the skin and keeps the pores open, the only legitimate modes of overcoming complexional defects.

Teeth like orient pearls set in cushions of rose:
A breath like the perfume the toilet bestows;
These are charms to win hearts, when all other charms fade
But they can't be preserved without SOZODONT'S aid.

LOOK AT THIS.

MRS. S. LORD will start a new crop of hair in any stage of baldness, and on a polished scalp, in from two to three months, if treated by herself, warranted permanent. No mushroom growth, money to be placed on deposit. No hair hair, no pay. Falling of the hair, dandruff and itching, checked readily. Room 21 Monastes' Building, First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.

A TESTIMONIAL.

MRS S. LORD—Dear Madam: I commenced using your Hair Producer about five months ago, my hair being thin and falling out rapidly, accompanied with an intense itching of scalp. Shortly after I commenced using your preparations, the itching ceased entirely, and the hair stopped coming out, and having used the remedy according to directions, my hair is growing thick and strong, with every prospect of being fully restored. Yours truly,

JAMES LADU, Mount Coffin, W. T.

COMMON COUNCIL.

ADJOURNED MEETING, SEPT. 16 1876.

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held last Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Present—Hon. J. A. Chapman, Mayor; councilmen Andrus, Catlin, Corbett, Harrington, Lambert, Skidmore, Stemme, Stephens and Wiley.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The petition of Knapp, Burrell & Co., and others, for the change of grade on Pine street, was read and laid on the table.

CLAIMS.

Smith Bros., $20; P. Francis, $40; Willamet Iron Works, $13; S. G. Bunting, $6; Wm. Lundberg, $1; H. Laeg, $37; Drew & Partridge, $11 16; Zan Bros. & Co., $5; Dan'l Halpruner, $152 89.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance providing for the lease of certain rooms for council chamber and offices, was read first and second time and laid over.

An ordinance making an appropriation for the relief of Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, was read first and second time and laid over.

The committee on streets and public property presented ordinances for the improvement of the following streets by putting in plank gutters, extending from West Park street to Front street: Main, Madison, Jefferson, Columbia, Clay, Market, Mill, Harrison, Hall and College; read three times and passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance adopting the report of the viewers in the matter of the widening of Second street; read three times and passed.

An ordinance repealing ordinance 1730 granting the O. C. R. R. Co. the right to lay a side track in South Fourth street; read twice.

BUSINESS ON THE TABLE.

The appointment of P. W. Davis as street superintendent was taken from the table, and a motion to confirm was declared lost by, yeas, 3; nays, 6.

RESOLUTIONS.

A resolution from the committee on streets and public property authorizing the auditor and clerk to give notice of the proposed improvement of Market street from Third to Fourth was adopted.

On motion, council adjourned.

FRUIT GROWERS' CONVENTION.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16, 1876.

Pursuant to adjournment the convention of fruit growers and others, met in the Council chamber at 1 o'clock P. M. to-day to further consider the matter of sending samples of Oregon fruits to the Centennial Exposition.

The finance committee residing in this city, reported that they had collected $56 50.

Nothing was heard from the members of the same committee residing in Salem, Oregon City and The Dalles.

The receiving and forwarding committee reported that they had received many contributions of fruit, and had shipped to Mr. Dufur by Wells, Fargo & Co's express, twenty-three boxes of fruit, consisting of plums, prunes, pears and apples, and that they expected to follow on with other shipments if provided with the means to defray the expense thereof.

It was resolved by the convention that a committee of three be appointed to draft and circulate a petition asking the legislature to appropriate $1000 to aid in exhibiting Oregon fruits at the great national exposition. Whereupon Messrs. Corbett, Cardwell and Malarkey were chosen. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That this convention fully approves the course of the Hon. A. J. Dufur as Centennial Commissioner.

The secretary was instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to Mr. Dufur.

Speeches were made by Hon. Goodsell, Roberts, Corbett, Gibbs, Leuelling, Miller, Hanson and others.

The tables were loaded with samples of fruit that would do honor to any State.

The Convention then adjourned to meet in the Council chamber next Saturday at 1 o'clock P. M.

P. W. GILLETTE,
Secretary.

The perfect points of all first class machines are combined in the make-up of the No. 8 Wheeler & Wilson. All who have examined it recommend it as the best now in use.

Call on M. Rosenblatt, 79 Front street, for men and boys' clothing. A large stock of fall and winter styles just received by the John L. Stephens. No better goods in the market.

The fall and winter styles of fashionable silk hats are now introduced at Currier & Co's. The best quality will be made to order for $9. Latest styles of felt hats by every steamer.

SPECIAL.—Five hundred trade dollars wanted in exchange for Boots and Shoes this week at the San Francisco Boot and Shoe Store. A. M. Hollabaugh is selling his best quality of goods at less than goods of inferior makes cost before the late decline. Silver of any coinage taken at par.

THE RAW, BLUSTERING WINDS OF WINTER AND EARLY SPRING, search out the weaknesses of all who are predisposed to Lung Complaints, and in consequence, Colds, Coughs and Bronchial Disorders everywhere prevail. Those who have contracted Colds should be especially careful, and not imprudently wait until by constant coughing they so irritate and rack their Lungs as to bring on themselves a very serious Pulmonary Affection. Let them rather treat their symptoms rationally, and at once, and by the prompt use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, cure their Colds, and heal all accompanying Soreness of the Chest.

We would not recommend the frequent or constant use of any medicine. It is important to take even a good article judiciously. Parson's Purgative Pills are safe, prompt and reliable as a laxative or cathartic.

Base ball is undoubtedly good exercise and capital amusement, but it often occasions bunged eyes, broken skins and blistered hands. We can tell you that in all such cases, if Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is resorted to, it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain.

No more use for wigs. Warner's Hair Producer will produce a new, natural growth of hair on any polished bald head at any age, from any cause except "scalding." Cures itching and dandruff, prevents hair from falling out three to ten days. "No hair, money refunded." Have living evidence; age 56, growth of hair ½ inch, treatment two months. For treatment, &c., call on or address Alex. Warner or Mrs. E. S. Wass, Third and Morrison, Portland, Oregon.

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

PILES! NO CURE, NO PAY! PILES!

PILES OR HEMORRHOIDS, FISTULA IN ANO AND OTHER DISEASES OF THE RECTUM CAN BE CURED. Those suffering from the above distressing complaints would do well to call and see me soon, as I expect to go to Olympia in a few days, and visit other points on the Sound. I shall be absent a month or six weeks. Remember if I do not give relief and cure you, I shall not charge you for my services or the medicines used. To persons of limited means I would say, should you suffer because you are poor? My answer is, no! COME AND BE CURED. Rooms on Third street, between Washington and Alder; P. O. Box 247, Portland, Oregon. DR. C. F. WIGHTMAN.

N. B. Persons writing will please enclose stamp for return postage. Diseases of private character specially treated without mercury.

SALEM LETTER.

SALEM, Sept. 16, 1876.

Outside of legislative duties and surmises of what they will do, what is there left for your regular correspondent to write about? Stroll with me along the public thoroughfares, pause for a moment in any business house, or enter with me the charmed circle of Salem society, and we hear nothing talked of but the ninth biennial session of the Oregon Legislature.

THE CITY ITSELF

is wrought up to an excited pitch which but intensifies as the time for holding the election of United States Senator draws near. Buttonholing has been brought down to a regular science, and "where two or three are gathered together" it is very safe to presume the Senatorial contest is the subject of conversation. In and around the Chemeketa hotel, which naturally becomes the headquarters of politicians, it is no uncommon sight to witness a dozen different knots of canvassers who are earnestly discussing the situation.

THE CAPITOL BUILDING

is used by our Democratic friends as "caucus chambers," and already have several ballots been taken on the vexed question which agitates the public mind. But of the result we leave other and more capable hands to deal. In local circles news items are necessarily scarce, as the press reporters can most truthfully testify. Our citizens are on the constant lookout for housebreakers, so zealously have they plied their nefarious occupation in many of the interior towns around us. Bolted doors and windows are becoming a necessity, as there are in the city at the present time

MANY SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS,

Whose movements have been watched with no little concern. Our extra police force has been put on in just the "nick of time," and we doubt not the guardians of our public peace will faithfully perform their respective duties. The residence of Mr. Ogle on Summer street was entered last evening by means of a board placed against a back window, and by means of which the light fingered chap made a hasty exit on being discovered, having only captured enough to purchase a square meal at a first-class restaurant. In company with other visitors, we to-day paid a flying visit to the

STATE PENITENTIARY,

And were escorted through the building by William Westacott, who spared no pains to make our visit interesting. The newly erected tannery and boot and shoe manufactory are certainly creditable to the State, and proves beyond a doubt that the most profitable way to use convict labor that it may be made profitable to the State is to lease it to contractors. But ten convicts now find employment in the brick yard, the majority being employed in the shops, where they learn a trade and are better prepared to earn an honest livelihood when they are discharged from the institution. We were especially interested in a

CONVICT PHONOGRAPHER,

Who, since his incarceration within the prison, has so far mastered the art of short-hand reporting as to write one hundred and thirty words per minute. He is employed in the bakery, and has considerable spare time which he employs in practice, and is supplied with all the standard works, enabling him to devote his spare time to most excellent advantage. His name is Brown, a Scotchman, convicted of grand larceny, with about sixteen months yet to serve. He expresses his determination to stick to it, and promises to become an expert at the business before his time is out.

CAPITAL NOTES.

A first-class entertainment would pan out at the present time.

The base-ballists have recommenced their labors, but what their intentions are we know not.

The president of the Agricultural Society has appointed D. D. Prettyman, Wm. Savage and David Newsome a committee on Centennial relics for the fortbcoming State Fair.

Hon. D. P. Thompson, of your city, is registered at the Chemeketa Hotel, and is a power in the organization of the third house.

Wheat is literally pouring into the Farmers' Warehouse, very little being offered for sale, however.

Bishop Morris is expected to officiate in the city next Sunday week.

Hon. J. C. Tolman is on hand with several blooded horses for exhibition at the coming State Fair.

Fifty-five members of the Oregon Legislature have apartments at the Chemeketa Hotel.

A new railing surrounds the desk in the county clerk's office.

Candidates for city offices begin to predominate on our streets. The biennial election takes place the first Monday in December.

DR. WARNER'S SANITARY CORSET.

TESTIMONIAL.

VICTORIA, B. C., August 10, 1876.

MRS. M. A. WARNER—Dear Madam: Six months ago I received from you one of Dr. Warner's Health Corsets. The benefit from its use is wonderful. For six years I suffered—pronounced consumption—with severe pains of the stomach, chest, lungs and back, loss of appetite, and headache, during the time I wore the old style corset—long, stiff bones, laced tight. Ignorance of course. A few days after I wore Dr. Warner's Health Corset I felt better; continued to improve, and now am free from pain, have good appetite, breathe free, and feel as when I was a girl. What a blessing to the human race are those corsets! Enclosed is $2 50, currency. Send No. 22 White London Cord by mail. Respectfully,

MRS. JENNIE HASTINGS.

CLARKE COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican Convention assembled in the city of Vancouver, Sept. 16th, 1876.

The permanent organization was effected with M. R. Hathaway, chairman, and Fred Bier, secretary.

The following committees were appointed: On Resolutions—W. B. Daniels, S. W. Brown and C. Stiles; on Order of Business—Messrs. Allen, Gridley and Jones.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That as Republicans we unanimously and heartily endorse the nomination of Hayes and Wheeler and deeply regret our legal inability to aid in their election by our votes.

Resolved, That while we are in favor of a judicious economy in the expenditure of the public money, we also favor as consistent therewith the passage of such laws by the legislative assembly, and the adoption of such measures by the county authorities, as shall more rapidly hasten on the discharge of the territorial and county indebtedness.

The chair appointed C. T. Stiles and Charles Goddard as tellers and proceeded to elect the following:

Delegates to the territorial convention, W. B. Daniels, W. S. Denthit, J. H. Fletcher, G. J. Tooley; for county commissioners, D. R. Fales, L. Meeker, Henry Curist; for sheriff, J. H. Fletcher; for auditor, Chas. Brown; for treasurer, F. Bier; for probate judge, Wm. Ginder; for assessor, Geo. J. Tooley; for surveyor, J. M. Reed; for coroner, M. Flynn, M. D.; for representatives to legislature, W. Byron Daniels, C. T. Stiles; for school superintendent, G. W. Stewart.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic County Convention met at the court house at 1 P. M. Saturday, Sept. 16. Permanent officers: H. L. Caples, chairman, and John Denn, secretary. Elected delegates to Territorial Convention: John H. Crudlebaugh, B. F. Shaw, A. F. David, W. M. Cross, Alex. L. Coffey. The convention then adjourned to meet Sept. 30, for the nomination of county officers for Clarke county.

EUGENE ITEMS.

Under date of Sept. 16th, our Eugene correspondent sends the following:

Abrams Bros' steam sawmill will begin work Tuesday or Wednesday.

East Eugene has received a large tented population within the week past.

Judge Baber, of Albany, has purchased Geo. Stowel's residence for the sum of $1,400.

Travel will be stopped over the Springfield bridge Monday, in order to allow the contractors to repair that structure.

A good deal of dissatisfaction exists in regard to the manner in which the applicants for free scholarships to the State University have been treated in this county.

Montgomery Queen's circus gave two performances here Friday to good audiences. It is the largest show that has ever visited this town, and the performances were exceedingly good.

One day last week our butchers supplied each other's customers with free meat. It's an old saw that opposition is the life of trade, and we opine that if they will continue to give meats away, they will have a large trade ere long.

The hop raisers are in the midst of their picking this week, and we are informed that there will be a fair crop, a good quality, and a good price per pound. Most yards employ white labor, although a few hire Indians, who are the best of hop-pickers.

During the circus performances Friday night, two of the male hyenas commenced fighting, and it was near an hour before they could be separated, during which time they made as much noise as ten bulls could make under the most favorable circumstances.

Geo. W. Kincaid, one of the proprietors of the Oregon State Journal, was married last Sunday night to Miss Laura Watkins. The Baptist church was crowded almost to suffocation on that occasion, and it was a lucky individual who could get a glimpse of the handsome bride.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 8, 1876.
Messrs. LILIENTHAL & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.
Gentlemen—I would report that I have made an analysis of your three brands of Noble Whisky distilled by you at Cincinnati, viz.:
I Crown Cyrus Noble Old Bourbon.

And find the same to be free from any deleterious substance, and particularly free from that very objectionable substance fusel oil, showing that great care has been taken in their manufacture.

CYRUS NOBLE DISTILLERY, 1st Dist., O.
CINCINNATI, April 1, 1876.
Messrs. LILIENTHAL & Co.
Gentlemen—I have just returned from a trip through Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia, undertaken for the purpose of examining the various distilleries in those districts, and I am now more than ever confirmed in the opinion, so often expressed to you, that your distillery is the most complete, and best conducted of any in the United States.
The careful selection of your grain, the purity of the water, the slower and more cautious method of distillation, is what gives the NOBLE WHISKY its superior qualities, and has gained for it the reputation which it universally sustains throughout the United States.
Gratified that the 20 years devoted to the distillation of the CYRUS NOBLE WHISKY, has been attended with such happy results, I trust I may be spared to continue my labors in its interest, and that of its many patrons and consumers.
I am, Gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,
CYRUS NOBLE.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The great reputation which our Cyrus Noble Whisky has enjoyed in medical practice throughout the Eastern States and Europe for a period of nearly 25 years, prompts us to bring it to the notice of the Public of the Pacific Coast for similar use.
Its absolute purity, having by analysis been found to be entirely free from FUSEL OIL, and the improved quality imparted to it by its being retained in store for at from 3 to 6 years after distillation, has given to the Physician a remedy long sought for in his own Materia Medica.
The certificates we hold of its efficacious use in the treatment of cases where NERVOUS PROSTRATION exists and vitality is at a low ebb, as is frequently observed in ic to our country, of DYSPEPSIA, with its whole train of gastric troubles, of of the LIVER and the BLADDER, of CONSUMPTION, affording effective and lief to the afflicted victim, and of diseases or blood poisoning, in its use as a disinfectant the death, are all highly gratifying to us, and we believe we owe it to our on the coast to use every to introduce it here.
Very respectfully,
LILIENTHAL & CO.,

FRUIT AS FOOD.—Dr M. L. Holbrook, a good while ago, in speaking of fruit as food, said: There is one other value in fruit which I cannot pass over in this connection without notice. One of the common diseases of children is worms in the bowels. If a child's digestion becomes impaired and the gastric juice becomes weakened or defective in quantity by overeating or bad fruit, the whole alimentary canal becomes clogged up and filthy, and furnishes nests, for such worms as will breed there. In this weakened condition of the system, they cannot be destroyed by the process of digestion, and hence great harm comes from them. Now, it is an interesting fact that fresh, ripe fruit is the best preventive for this state of things. Dr. Benjamin Rush pointed this out a hundred years ago. He made a series of experiments on earth worms, which he regarded as more nearly allied to those that infest the bowels of children than any other, with a view to test the influence of various substances that might be used as worm medicines. The results proved that worms often lived longer in the substances known as [illegible] than in some of the most harmless [illegible] of food. For instance, in watery solutions of opium they lived 11 minutes; in [illegible] of pink root, 33 minutes; in claret wine, 10 minutes; but in the juice of red cherries they died in 6 minutes; black cherries in [illegible] minutes; red currents in 3 minutes; gooseberries in 4 minutes; whortleberries in 7 minutes, and raspberries in 5 minutes. [illegible] these experiments Dr. Rush argued [illegible] ripe fruits, of which children are [illegible], are the most speedy and effectual [illegible]. In practice this theory [illegible] to be correct.

If we eat and drink hot and exciting [illegible] the blood [illegible] inflamed, the nerves [illegible], and the brain sends out thoughts [illegible] base and [illegible]. If we do away with [illegible] that only influence the passions, [illegible] substitute more fruit in their place, we [illegible] need less restraint on wrongdoing, for [illegible] would be clearer, our blood cooler, [illegible] steadier, our impulses more subject [illegible], and life would be a hundred per [illegible] better than it is to-day.

The above is timely, and, we believe, good [illegible].

[illegible] The [illegible] prominent [illegible] a bird [illegible] in which it differs [illegible] except the bat and [illegible] arm [illegible] in only one long slender [illegible] of a full hand. To this are attached quills and feathers (coverts) on the [illegible] side, which make up the wing. Observe [illegible] this is: In the first place, [illegible] are hollow, then the shafts of the [illegible] are hollow, and finally, the feathers [illegible] are made of the most delicate filaments, interlocking and clinging to one [illegible] with little grasping hooks, of microscopic [illegible]. Well, how does a bird fly? [illegible] simple enough to describe, and yet it [illegible] that the [illegible] in such matters [illegible] out to anybody's satisfaction [illegible] by the Duke of [illegible] to be the best: An [illegible] hollow on its under[illegible] when [illegible] the upward pressure [illegible] this concavity, lifts [illegible] up, much as you [illegible] yourself up [illegible] in a gymnasium. [illegible] in this way get ahead, and [illegible] to be [illegible]. Now, the [illegible] of the wing, [illegible] of the bones [illegible] is rigid and un[illegible] the hinder margin is merely [illegible] of the feathers; so when [illegible] down, the air [illegible] it, finding [illegible] the [illegible] would rush [illegible] up the [illegible] forward out [illegible] would tend to [illegible] This process quickly [illegible] of flight.

[illegible] have had an almost un[illegible] of bad luck since the St. Louis [illegible] was, first, Tilden's mistake [illegible] to Hendricks, and in [illegible] of Representatives [illegible] act, to which he [illegible] admitted. Then [illegible] both he and Hendricks have too [illegible]. The party is put upon the defensive, and is engaged in apologizing and [illegible]. The ultra-reactionary element is [illegible] the front also, especially in the [illegible] unpleasantness. Altogether, [illegible] of [illegible], so bright in June, [illegible] dull in September.—Cin[illegible] Ind.

[illegible] VALUE OF BLACK WALNUT.—[illegible] timber has become so firmly [illegible] as a [illegible] material for furniture and cabinet work that it is not probable [illegible] value will be [illegible], [illegible] the visible supply is rapidly [illegible]. Ten years ago black [illegible] was "bought on the stump"—[illegible] in the woods at $2 per 1,000 [illegible] It is now [illegible] at $30 to $35 a thousand, [illegible] beautifully veined or clouded [illegible] much more is paid. A tree 24 inches [illegible] three feet from the ground, and [illegible] 48 feet high, will make a thousand [illegible], and should therefore be worth $30 [illegible]. As it is a rapid grower, [illegible] unquestionably a good profit in planting this timber at the current price.—Ameri[illegible]

[illegible] was [illegible] made at the Moss Creek Mills, [illegible] Carrollton, Mo., to ascertain the [illegible] could be made from [illegible] standing in the field, and with the following [illegible] astonishing result. The trial [illegible] at one minute after 3 o'clock and [illegible] at twelve minutes past 3, as follows:

[illegible] wheat	3.01
[illegible]	3.02
[illegible] threshing wheat	3.02½
[illegible] the [illegible] wheat (½ bushel)	3.03½
[illegible]	3.04½
[illegible]	3.05½
[illegible] ed making bread	3.06
[illegible] baking [illegible]	3.08½
[illegible] baking bread	3.08¾
[illegible] baking griddle cakes	3.09½
[illegible] baking biscuit	3.12

They were fond of each other, very, and had been engaged. But they quarreled and were too proud to make it up. He called a few [illegible] ago at her father's house—to see the old gentleman on business, of course. She answered his ring at the door bell. Said he, "Ah, Miss [illegible], I believe, is your father within?"

"No, sir," she replied; "pa is not in at present. Did you wish to see him personally?"

"Yes, miss," was his bluff response, feeling that she was yielding, "on very particular personal business," and he proudly turned to go away.

"I beg your pardon," she called after him as he struck the lower step, "but who shall I say called?" He never smiled again.

When Sir William Herschel had discovered the planet formerly discovered by his name, but now known as Uranus, Sir Joseph Banks and other Fellows of the Royal Society attempted, to no purpose to catch a sight of it. So he had a portable tube constructed of silk, packed it up with his mirrors, traveled to London, appointed a meeting with the doubters on the roof of Somerset House, and there exhibited to them the object which they had sought in vain; on which Sir Joseph took off his hat and made him a bow, an example which was followed by the rest of the company.

It is no secret that the friends of Bristow hereabouts assert positively that if Hayes is elected Bristow will be again made Secretary of the Treasury, and this boast, taken in connection with Schurz's Cleveland speech, is a prediction that the party under Hayes would be Bristowized, and "the satraps" who have [illegible] under Grant be outlawed.—St. Louis Republican. Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 16—Demand for wool quite active, manufacturers being free purchasers with more or less speculative inquiry. Prices are a shade higher for fleeces, and the tendency of the market for all kinds is upward. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania for the week, 270,000 pounds and includes considerable medium and X, 37@48. XX and above at 43@43½. We quote the market firm at 38@40 for X and No 1 and 43@45 for good and choice XX. Michigan fleeces advanced a shade and attracted considerable attention, with sales of 414,000 pounds heavy and choice X at 33@37, mostly at 35@37, and there is now little to be had under 36. Combing and delaine fleeces are in demand and prices are quite firm, sales 146,000 pounds combing and delaines, 35@45 for delaine and 45@50 for washed combing, and 30@36 for unwashed. Demand for California is good, new fall is arriving more freely, and sales of this description during the past week were 92,000 pounds at 16@18c per pound, currency. Transactions in spring aggregated 474,500 pounds, mostly at 22@30c, good lots selling at 27@30. Pulled wools steady and firm with sales of 269,000 pounds super and X at 29½@42, mostly in range of 32@40.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The unsettled and rainy weather during the greater portion of the past week has imparted a buoyancy to the wheat market to which it has been a stranger. Prices have ranged from $1 02 to $1 06, closing at about $1 03 for No. 2 spring. The last two days of the week were pleasant, and receipts began to increase so rapidly that prices at the close were lower, and the market trading has been chiefly of a local and speculative character, and cash wheat has sold uniformly higher than the options. Wheat at this time last year was selling at $1 09. Receipts for the week have been: Wheat, 292,000; corn, 334,500; oats, 251,000 [illegible] against 529,000, 676,000 and 359,000, respectively, last year. Shipments of wheat have been 274,000 bushels; corn, 1,662,000; oats, 378,000—against 415,000, 1,066,000, and 355,000 respectively last year. Corn has ruled rather higher, with fair activity, closing at 45½c. Oats have generally sold higher, but closed at about the inside price, 33c. Prominent operators don't have any great faith in the high prices, and especially that there is a general anticipation that wheat will experience a decided downward movement. Provisions have been active and at times excited, but generally higher. Pork closes at $15 30 and lard at $10 35 per barrel.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill Creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety-four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

3,200 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately surveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.
